Edinburgh, Thursday, November 5, 1730.

Wye's Letter Verbatim, London, Oct. 31.

Since our last arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

OUR Merchants have received the melancholly News, that the Prince William, Captain Ford, bound for London from Cadiz, with three or four other Ships, were lost off the Rota. That the Bermudas Merchant, Captain Heron, bound from St. Eustace to Holland, foundered in her Passage, and the Men all lost, except a Negroe Boy; and that the Ship commanded by Captain Boyle, coming out of the Elbe about three Weeks ago, run upon the Sands and was lost, but all the Men were saved; and from the Accounts which Captain Herbert, as we lately mentioned, brought of a Hurricane at Barbadoes, it is feared that great Damage has been done to the Ships there.

Our South Sea Company is under no small Concern, that their annual Ship has been so long detained by contrary Winds, which must occasion a very heavy Expence; and how this Affair will terminate, with respect to the Advantages that will accrue from her Voyage, we know not.

We acquainted you in our last, with the Apprehensions which some here were under from the vile Incendiaries; we have now to relate, that the Lady Diana Fielding, Sister to the Rt. Honourable the Earl of Denby, had a Letter sent her at her House in Duke Street Westminster, threatening Death, Fire, &c. in case her Ladyship did not send a certain Sum of Money to a Place therein mentioned.

This Morning at two a-clock the Inhabitants of Newgate Street were greatly alarmed at a Fire which broke out at Mr. Thorney's a Brazier, next Door to the 3 Tun Tavern; and it is generally believed it was purposely set on Fire by the Apprentice, who it seems took what Money was in the Drawer in the Shop, with all his Cloaths, and is gone off with them; however, the Fire was happily extinguished by an Engine, which came speedily before it did any considerable Damage.

The Rev. Mr. Eusden, Poet Laureat, dying a few Days ago at his Living in Lincolnshire, 'tis reported as if he will be succeeded by Mr. Stephen Duck the Wiltshire Thresher, whose Poems, tho' but lately printed, have sold so extraordinarily, that the 7th Edition thereof is now published, with some Account of his Life; particularly, "That he had little or no Learning bestowed on him, however the Labour of his Mind generally accompanied that of his Body: That Milton was his constant Companion both in the Field and in the Barn: That the Spectators were of singular Use to him; and that Baily's Dictionary instructed him in the Signification of Words, &c." He was born in the Year 1705, near the Seat of Peter Bathurst Esq; of Clarendon Park in Wiltshire; and 'tis demonstrable he works in no other Stilts than those of his own Genius, which renders him the Admiration of the present Age.

By the above Mail we learn from the Hague, of the 7th of November N. S. that the Duke de Ripperda was arrived there incog. From Vienna, That the associated Circles have resolved to furnish an Army of 30,000 Men on the Rhine in case of a War, and that the Emperor omits nothing for his Defence in case the Negotiations should not have this Winter the desired Success. From Poland, That the Diet having broke up without doing the least Business, Affairs there were in a very unhappy Situation. And from Saxony, That Orders were dispatched to all the Officers of the Army to make new Levies.

Touching the grand Entertainment on the Lord Mayor's Day at Guildhall, 'tis remarked, that two Judges, of which one was a Chief, withdrew from thence in a very few Minutes. But whatever Distaste might have been given, his Lordship next Morning wrote a very handsome Letter excusing it. 'Tis certain the Company in the Hall was exceeding numerous, of which 'tis said some were Foreigners, &c.

Charles Montague Esq; Son of the late Lord Chief Baron Montague, is appointed Auditor to the Prince of Wales for the Duchy of Cornwall, in the Room of Daniel Deering Esq; deceased.

From a Weekly Journal, Nov. 31

The Advices from Denmark take notice, That the new King had removed severals of the Great Officers employed by the late King his Father, and appointed others in their Places, whose Names having never been heard of before, and perhaps never will again, we shall not trouble our Readers with them.

From Spain we understand, That the Indulto on the Effects of the Galleons was not yet settled; but as the Writers of a certain Party said near two Years ago, the French have more Concern there than we, so let Them look to it. What a happy Situation it is, not to be afraid of any Thing which may affect that Part of our Trade! And how thankful ought we to be to those who have been the Occasion of it!

From France we are told, That a certain very Eminent Gentleman appears to be in a tottering Condition. But more of this hereafter.

And from Vienna, That his Imperial Majesty resolves to augment his Troops against next Spring, and that some Spanish Couriers have been seen in that City, which occasions some Speculation.

From the Evening Posts, Oct. 31.

Lisbon, Oct. 12. The People here discover an uncommon Joy at the News of an Accommodation being signed between his Majesty and the See of Rome. The King holds frequent Councils upon the present Juncture of Affairs, the Result whereof is kept secret.

Vienna, Oct. 25. 'Tis still said, that the Differences between this Court and that of Saxony are on the Point of being adjusted. 'Tis likewise said, that there are some new Proposals of Accommodation on the Carpet, between their Imperial and Catholick Majesties; and that an Ambassador is shortly expected from Spain, with the necessary Instructions for forwarding this great Work.

Venice, Oct. 30. The Master of a Vessel which lately put in here from Salonica, reports, that they had received Advice there, that their Agent at the Ottoman Porte was safely arrived at Constantinople where the whole Discourse ran upon the general decisive Battle which the Grand Signor was gone in Person to give the new Sophy, no Officers of Peace between them being there talked of or suspected. On Sunday the 30 Christian Slaves redeemed at Tripoly, were led in Procession to the Parochial Church of St. Marcilian, where Te Deum was sung for their happy Deliverance; they were afterwards entertained at Dinner at the Hospital of the Fathers of the Trinity, and dismissed each with a Piece of Silver.

Amsterdam, Nov. 7. We learn from Barcelona and Alicant, that those Transports wherein Stables are built (each for 20 Horses and upwards) are still retained in the King's Service, under a new Agreement, to March next, being at 15 Ryals a Month for each Horse, upon a further Promise to advance the 15 to 25 in case of an Expedition to Italy before that Time. The Masters of the Transports discharg'd had moreover some Hints given them, that if they returned by March or April at farthest, there might be occasion for their Service. The Troops, or most part of them, continue at Barcelona, nor are like to return to their old Quarters, but in case of an Accommodation this Winter. From Port St. Mary's, That their Catholick Majesties, and all the Royal Family, set out for Seville on the 12th and 13th, the sooner because of the Epidemick Fever which rages there, attended with Vomiting, and carries off abundance of People. His Excellency Mr. Keene, the British Ambassador, set out for Gibraltar, to return to Seville in a few Days. 'Tis now currently believed that the Indulto upon the Effects brought by the Flotilla will not be settled till his Catholick Majesty sees what Turn the Negotiations of the Marquis de Castellar will take at the Court of France.

Linlithgow, Oct. 27. The JUSTICES OF THE PEACE, met at their Quarter-Sessions, taking into their serious Consideration the many great Evils and Inconveniencies, that arise from the Running and excessive Consumption of Brandy and other Foreign Spirits; and foreseeing the certain Ruin that threatens the Country, unless some timely Remedy be applied, and a speedy Stop put to this pernicious Practice; not only as it is very hurtful and prejudicial to the Fair Trader, who is thereby far underfold by the Runner; but likewise, as His Majesty's Revenue is hereby greatly lessened, by which means the Bounty-money allowed on the Exportation of Fish and Corn, cannot well be advanced; and the Manufactures, which are at present in so thriving and prosperous a way, will be entirely crush'd; the Price of our Grain is likewise hereby become so low, that it is of little or no Value; besides, a very great Sum of ready Money is annually carried out of the Kingdom; all which will be prevented by Distilling and Manufacturing our own Grain: DO THEREFORE, in the most warm and earnest Manner, recommend it to all Noblemen, Gentlemen, Heritors, and other Inhabitants, within the Shire, to have the Good and Welfare of their Country so much at Heart, as not to be aiding and assisting to the Running or Runners of such Brandy; but on the contrary, that they will, to their utmost Power, disclose and make known all such as deal this way, to the end they may be prosecuted as Transgressors of the Law. And the IT.
